

Loxahatchee River Watershed Status LRD's Wildlife Observation Area

District staff and volunteers from Busch Wildlife have been working on a series of improvements to create a Wildlife Observation Area adjacent to the District's equalization ponds, and part of Busch Wildlife's Nature Trail. The area gives visitors the opportunity to view the extensive bird life that utilize the lakes and surrounding habitat. New amenities include fencing, a covered deck and observation platform, and signage explaining some the District's treatment plant and water storage features. At our meeting we will provide a slideshow of the area, or go and see it firsthand.
