

Preserving Nature by Design™

Loxahatchee River District

Since 1971, the Loxahatchee River District has been dedicated to preserving the Loxahatchee River and its natural habitats by designing innovative wastewater solutions, conducting research, and providing educational opportunities to promote understanding and appreciation for this great river watershed.

A leader in wastewater management and modern resource management, such as wastewater recycling, the Loxahatchee River District was honored as "Best in Nation" by the United States Environmental Protection Agency, and is committed to preserving nature by design.™

Friends of the Loxahatchee River

Founded in 1995, Friends of the Loxahatchee River's mission is to preserve the Loxahatchee River through environmental education and public involvement.

Through grants and fundraising, Friends helps to support a diversity of environmental education programs, including adult lectures and the River Center.

Through its efforts we all have an opportunity to help preserve this beautiful watershed.

Interactive Exhibits

This state of the art aquarium facility features 9 freshwater and saltwater aquariums, including a touch tank. There are an additional eight interactive exhibits that will engage visitors in estuary tidal cycles, floodplains, and managing water resources.

Visiting Exhibits

Rotating, interactive exhibits from other local environmental organizations will be featured. Become a member today and receive exclusive invitations to receptions and early viewings.

Family Events and Programs

Bring the whole family to the Family series of programs and activities that will get you moving and having fun! Visit www.loxahatcheeriver.org for a calendar of upcoming events. We also offer birthday party packages.

Field Trips for Schools, Camps, and Organizations

Field trips to the River Center focus on the wetland and upland ecosystems of south Florida. We also extend an invitation to other educational groups, such as home school associations, girl scout and boy scout troops, and summer camps. Our programs can be adapted for your group. We may also arrange a field opportunity off-site on the Loxahatchee River or in the estuary/coastal communities.

The River Center relies on public and private foundation grants, memberships, and private donations to support its programs. Please consider making a gift today.

Volunteer Opportunities

Many exciting opportunities for volunteer participation exist at the River Center. We hope that you will join our team and family. Daily Operations, Docents, Education Programs, Special Events, Animal Care, and Gardening.
